

CCTV Report for April 2014

Just another day 'in the office'.

The first job of the month was the operator undertaking the monitoring of a route that an offender from a domestic violence incident may take after leaving the location of the assault. It was not really perceived that we were going to find the offender but we stuck with it anyway. In the end there was no trace by our operator.

The next job was instigated by a PCSO in Redhill where they had seen two suspicious persons and they would like us to monitor them. We were unable to locate them at all.

Our operator then found a large traffic build up in Redhill and traced the cause to an apparently broken down vehicle blocking a lane of traffic on the approach to a roundabout, The operator phoned the local PCSO who attended and with the help of other was able to move the vehicle to a safe location and allow the traffic to flow again. This timely response reduced the frustration for hundreds of travellers.

The next report was of a male damaging a vehicle in Dorking and whilst not in our view we maintained a visual overview of possible routes that could be used by an offender. Nothing was seen.

Back to Redhill with the Belfry reporting two suspicious persons, one of whom had been covering their face, leaving the shopping centre. We followed the males but with no offences reported we just monitored them until they left town by taxi.

Further information came from Dorking with a witness now providing a good description of the person damaging the vehicle. Although the incident was now over an hour old we patrolled the town centre area and were rewarded by a male answering the description being located by our operator in the High Street. We informed the Police officer who was taking details of the offence and they immediately responded and arrested the male. An excellent detection for us as it is highly unlikely that any other enquiry would have located the offender.

Finally the day was rounded off by a report from the public to the police that 10 persons were fighting outside a parade of shops at Merstham. We immediately checked the area and were able to state that 10 persons were not currently fighting although several persons were at the location. This information allowed the police to scale back the response. An officer still attended and after speaking with the informant it was clarified that the persons had been causing anti-social behaviour and were not physically fighting. This immediate clarification by our operator allowed the police response to be commensurate with the actual events taking place and not as first stated by the witness.

This ordinary day was selected purely as it was the first day of the month. It was not a weekend nor was it a busy day, just an ordinary day!

Note:

"Statistical Info" gives an overview of statistics for last three months plus a cumulative annual total. "Allocation of Time" shows the breakdown of time spent by CCTV staff. Within this tab the item marked 'copy and seize media' indicates the length of time preparing evidence for prosecution cases. The item marked 'crime investigation' indicates the time spent reviewing incidents thereby saving Police resource time. The item marked 'monitor incidents and events' indicates the actual time spent when a 'real time' incident has been reported to the Police or CCTV. Year is defined as April to March.
